

HESTON LEE

Heston Lee is an English singer-songwriter and guitarist. In 2024, he released his debut album "Farewell My Love", which was produced by Martin 'Youth' Glover, best known for his work with Paul McCartney (The Fireman) and original member of Killing Joke. His music journey began in 1998 when he was gifted an abandoned Spanish guitar left behind after a party. Heston moved to Berlin after 10 years of teaching himself to play from a book. He discovered a buzzing open mic circuit where he met a local studio producer scouting for clients. They spent a freezing winter (-30) in the studio recording 15 original songs at One Million Mangos studio. Heston returned to London and started a band "The Deep South Project". Bookings came at The Troubadour, Bedford, Dublin Castle and O2 Islington but the band did not stay together. After a few years doing various jobs he met Martin Youth Glover at a remote cafe near Granada in Spain. Glover stayed in contact and 4 years later invited Heston to record at his famous recording studio and retreat "Space Mountain". Heston recorded an album "Farewell My Love" with Glover adding bass parts. Youth also appears in the video Oh Bidy filmed at Mini Hollywood in Spain

LINKS

www.HestonLee.com

<https://www.facebook.com/HestonLeeMusic>

<https://www.instagram.com/hestonleemusic>

<https://hestonlee.bandcamp.com/album/farewell-my-love>

<https://open.spotify.com/artist/6xwJeHxtZ0hDFQheEu18Ti>

<https://www.tiktok.com/@hestonleemusic>

CONTACT HESTON

Info@hestonlee.com

RELEASES

Farewell My Love 2024 \(ALBUM\) (Recorded at Space Mountain studio, Granada, Spain)

Producer: Martin Youth (McCartney, Verve), Engineer: Ivan Moran, Drums: Richard Dudanski (101`s, clash), Guitar : Juan Codorniu Bass:
Martin Youth Gloverm Guitar/Vocals Heston Lee

